HouseCheck Environmental Services launches mold inspection services in Fort Myers, Naples

FORT MYERS, FL, April 16, 2019 – HouseCheck Environmental Services, a division of National HouseCheck Corporation, has announced the launch of mold inspection services for residents of Fort Myers and Naples. The services will help identify and mitigate harmful mold and mold-causing conditions within a home or business that may present potential health and safety risks.

Mold inspection services are available immediately to residents and businesses in the Fort Myers and Naples area following HouseCheck's acquisition of mold assessment experts, Capstone Environmental.

"We are happy to bring the expertise of Capstone Environmental into the HouseCheck family and enhance the services we bring to our customers," says Capstone Owner, Ken Siders. "HouseCheck Environmental Services provides additional resources and support that enables our team of experts to deliver comprehensive environmental inspections across a broader area, and ultimately protect the health of more people."

Fort Myers/Naples is the first area in which HouseCheck Environmental Services is offering mold inspection services, with more expected to follow soon.

"In all areas of our business, HouseCheck's top commitment is to the safety of those inside a home or business," says National HouseCheck Chairman and CEO, Dennis Conforto. "Providing expert mold inspections to enhance public safety is a natural extension of our mission. We are proud to begin delivering this important service and look forward to expanding our coverage to other areas very soon."

If left unidentified, mold can pose serious health risks and cause a variety of health effects. For those in the area in need of a mold inspection of their home or business, visit <https://housecheck.com/mold-alert> or contact (239) 232-8629 to schedule an appointment.
